Artist

“Art makes you see things differently and that includes yourself.”

My name is Nicholas Selway and I'm an artist.

As a former member of Artists First, I have exhibited and sold my work for many years. My work can be seen on several websites: www.artistsfirst.org.uk www.outsidein.org.uk and on Instagram @beyondartistsfirst

I have taken part in many workshops and exhibition talks and have made films as part of Artists First. If you visit the Artists First website, you can see and hear me talk about my work and why art has always been important to me.

Through Artists First, my work has been chosen to be part of the National Disability Art Collection and Archive www.ndaca.org.uk , something I'm really proud of.

I'm very pleased to say that I have just been awarded an Arts Council 'Developing Your Creative Practice' grant which will help me to 'try out' being an independent artist. This will enable me to develop my love of painting working alongside Disabled & non-disabled artists and set residence at Estate of the Arts.

If you want to find out more about my work, commission or buy my art please contact: apharris58@outlook.com for further details.

“Having known Nick for so many years I find it quite hard to objectively talk about his art.

Our relationship has, for many reasons, had to be a very honest and straight talking one. Nick isn't always an easy person to work but it's always hugely rewarding when you do.

What I can say is, more than any other member of Artists First Nick's work reflects his wide ranging of interest in Myth, Folklore, and religion, this 'literary' base to his work makes him and his art unique within the group. Nick is an artist to his very core.
